Great Enthusiasm to Date

We have received a very enthusiastic response from everyone contacted so far. If anyone is feeling apprehensive, then don't worry. You will be amazed at how much we will find in common and how many mutual acquaintances we may have after 50 years of separation! If you are coming without a partner and are worried about a lack of company, then be assured that many have indicated that they will be there without partners too. We will ensure that everyone mixes.

Photographer

Howard Wills has arranged for an experienced reunion photographer to attend the afternoon session. We can choose the groupings on the day. There is no attendance fee, but photos will cost $20 for the first photo and $15 for subsequent photos (includes postage and GST).

Still Missing!

Thanks to the many people who have helped us find missing colleagues – without your help there could not be a reunion. We are gradually whittling the list down, but time is running out. We have been unable to contact the following and we urgently need your help (We'd hate them to find out after the event!)

If you have any leads on any of the above please let Tony Neville know.

Profiles

Orme Harris has agreed to edit and collate our profiles, provided she receives them by 7th October. (These should be 200 to 500 words of interesting information about you so that we have a bit more background on each other before the big day.) We had intended to have "before and after" photos, but we now think that they will clog up the email channels. Our intention is to email a collection of profiles to you well before the reunion. For those with only a postal address, Kevan Porter will copy the profiles, make them into a booklet and post them out about two weeks before the reunion.

Attached to this newsletter is a sheet designed to help you write your profile and examples of some that have already been written.

It would have been more interesting to include photos, but we will have name tags with BIG print on the day. So if you don't recognize the face, you may recognize the name. If you have a problem with both, then there is the possibility that someone is at the wrong reunion. If it's you, then bluff your way through. You'll probably have a ball!

Student teacher Judith Morris, of Frankston, astride Gallant, from Trent's stables. Judith is one of the models who will take part in the fashion parade organised by the Frankston Teachers' College Welfare Association, and to be held at the College, Frankston, on Wednesday, October 26, at 8 p.m.

Howard Wills, firmly convinced the new students at the Frankston Teachers' College that he was the janitor of the College during their first Assembly..

Maureen Cavey, Jennifer Gaudion, Judy Morris, Beverley Vale and Shirley McPherson, student teachers at the Frankston Teachers' College who took part in the Mannequin Parade held at the school last Tuesday. The parade was organised by Gallants of Frankston.

Registration Form

With this newsletter is a registration form for you to complete. We will need to give caterers definite numbers well before the day. We will use information on the form to print nametags that will be available on the day. We will require payment with the registration form. Payment options are by direct bank deposit (preferable), cheque or using the EFTPOS facilities (Visa and Mastercard only) at the Porter family business (Lighting Bonanza) in Albury.

Memorabilia

On the day we will have a space for you to display any memorabilia that you bring. Remember to have your name marked on it for safe return. We are looking for some volunteers who would like to organize the display. Once set up, it can be left, so it is not an all day job.

(Let Judy Callow know if you can help with the display.)
